Fred McLaughlin seeks nomination for NDP here

I am seeking the nomination as the candidate for the New Democratic Party in the riding of Victoria-Haliburton because of the political and social conditions that are being experienced in the Province of Ontario.

The present Conservative government is bankrupt of policies and leadership. The Davis government has alienated the people. In order to bring government to the people and allow them to participate in a real way with the decision making process we need a candidate to challenge the present structure. I feel that I can fulfill this requirement.

I am a married man and have two children. At present I am a teacher. I have a B.A. in History and am presently continuing my education at York University. During my course of studies I have done some work in the fields of Political Science and Social Science which have given me more insight into the problems facing us and will be beneficial to me in my campaign if elected as the candidate for the New Democratic Party.

I believe that the New Democratic Party is the only political organization in the Province of Ontario that can properly fulfill the needs of the people and as the candidate for Victoria-Haliburton I believe that I would be well equipped to challenge the candidates of the other parties for the support of the people.

Minden Rotary Carnival all set to go

The Annual Minden Rotary Carnival is all set to go for Wednesday and Thursday, July 30th and 31st. To get the Carnival off to a good start a canoe race will be held.

A full slate of entries is anticipated for this year's S.F. Stinson Memorial Canoe Race slated Wednesday, July 30.

Held each summer the race is similar to those held in pioneer days and commemorates the memory of

S.F. Stinson who owned and operated the saw mill and grist mill which were located on the present Gull River site of the Orillia power dam. As in past years, this year's race will start at the Rotary Park and will follow the Gull River to the finish line at the Minden bridge in the heart of the village.

Canoes must be 16 feet long and can be either canvas-covered or fibreglass. The racing shell-type of canoe will not be allowed to participate.

At 6:30 p.m. following the Canoe Race a monster parade with bands and floats and marching units will be underway. After the parade the action begins at the fairgrounds and Recreation Centre with entertainment, games of Chance and a midway. There will be rides, non-stop bingo, games, beer garden and food booths. Entertainment both nights with the 50-50 draw on Thursday night.

Trent-Severn waterway

With the continuing hot dry weather, the loss of water from the lakes and rivers by evaporation is now more than twice the flows out of the lakes.

During the early part of the season the drawdown of the reservoir lakes on the Gull system was greater than the drawdown on the Burnt System. The reason for this is that a minimum flow of 450 cubic feet per second is required to keep the lower Gull at acceptable levels. This flow coupled with minimum flows from the other watersheds was sufficient to maintain the required flow past Peterborough.

As a result of evaporation it is now necessary to draw more water off the lakes on the Burnt watershed. The percentage drawdown on the Burnt is approaching the percentage drawdown on the Gull but the loss has occurred over a shorter period of time.

The same thing is happening on the Nogies, Mississagua and Eel's watersheds but to a lesser extent.

For the last week the flow past Peterborough has been less than 500 cubic feet per second. The normal minimum is 800 cubic feet per second. Until there is a break in the weather the flow at Peterborough will be kept as low as possible in order to conserve water.

Another effect of the hot dry weather has been a proliferation of weed growth in areas of lakes and channels where no one can recall previous problems. This is caused by more sunlight and the water being warmer than normal.

Unless we receive rain over the entire watershed of the order of 2 to 3 inches and lower temperatures, we can expect the lake levels to continue dropping rapidly and the weed problem to get worse.

On July 14th, the reservoir lakes as a whole had dropped to 76 percent of maximum storage.

SYMBOL SIGNS ON FREEWAYS TO MARK INFORMATION CENTRES

TORONTO -- The Ministry of Transportation and Communications has announced new symbol signs indicating travel information centres operated by municipalities, chambers of commerce, or regional councils will be installed at provincial freeway interchanges.

The signs, with a lower case letter "i" symbol and the legend "travel information", will be included on composite signs listing various services available at freeway interchanges.

The first of these new signs will appear on the Queen Elizabeth Way in the Burlington-St. Catharines area this month.

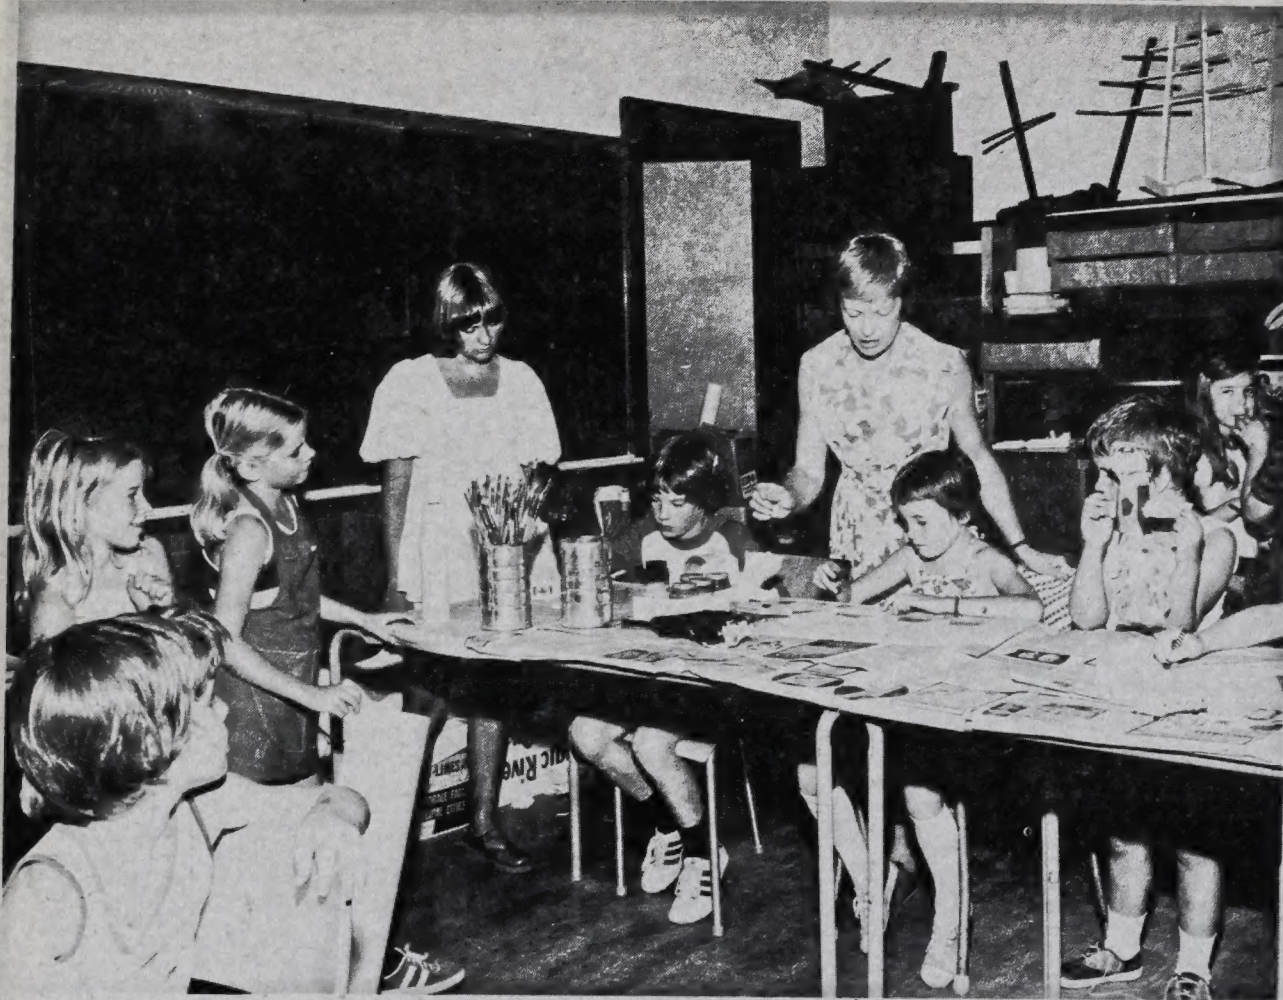

The "i" symbol will indicate an official information centre approved by the Ministry of Industry and Tourism and located within three miles of a freeway and in continuous operation eight hours a day, seven days a week throughout the tourist season.

A composite sign including the "i" symbol in advance of the appropriate interchange as well as a direction marker with the "i" symbol at the freeway ramp terminal will be erected by MTC.

The information centre operator will be responsible for erecting any additional signs between ramp terminals and the centres.

From the legion

Please don't increase my income

From the July 1975 Legion Magazine

I can remember in the "Dirty Thirties" one of the major fears facing a man or a woman was to be poor. The thought of not having enough money to buy food or to care for the needs of the family caused many a family man to find some kind of work and to save for a rainy day. This sense of responsibility prevented many from doing the things they would have liked to do.

Putting aside something for their senior years, for the education of their children, or for payments on a mortgage or a downpayment on a home, was a way of life to many.

But now, in our mad rush down the road of socialism, this work-and-save thinking has taken a beating. Today, all people think about is to enjoy the pleasures of an affluent society.

If you are poor, you are in the new privileged group. You can have the finest legal advice available, free. You don't have to worry about medical expenses. You can have pre-natal care and medical care through life and right up until including an all-expense funeral with the compliments of the tax payers. All you have to do is become a relief recipient.

You can forget about saving money to have a nice place to live. The tax payers will provide you with subsidized housing for little or nothing.

Today it is a disadvantage to be middle-class. To receive the benefits of our society you need to be poor, or to run afoul of the law in order to receive psychiatric assistance and to receive a free education without having to meet the requirements set for regular students.

Imagine the following dialogue between a hardworking man and his employer: "Sir, may I speak with you? It is very important."

"All right. But make it snappy. I'm busy."

"It's about my salary. I wonder if you could see your way to give me a decrease in salary?"

"Well, I don't know. I gave you a decrease just last year."

"Yes sir! But I sure could use less money. I can't live on the large salary you pay me."

"How much of a decrease did you have in mind?"

"Well, sir, if I could have a $100 decrease I could qualify for a larger and nicer place to live, nearer to the office. I could also have my children's teeth fixed, and we could send our oldest child to college, free. We can't qualify with what you are paying me now."

"I don't know. A hundred-dollar-a-month decrease is a lot. If I give you a $100 decrease, every employee in the office will be asking for less money, and I can't do that."

"Sir, I have worked for you for over 25 years. I think I deserve a $100 cut. With the taxes I have to pay we just can't make it. I need that $100 decrease. My wife has her heart set on it."

"Well, all right. I'll give you a $100 cut, but don't tell the others in the office. Tell me, where do you think you can get a subsidized house? Close to the office you say?"

"Yes, sir! With that $100 cut we can qualify. It is only a few blocks away. It has a pool, tennis courts, and everything, and it only costs me about one-third of what I am paying now."

"O.K. But remember, if your work slips, I am going to have to give you an increase."

This week we feel that we should deviate a little from the usual, to bring to the attention of all a very worthwhile effort being made at present by a Committee of Senior Citizens who are residents of Hyland Crest Home.

The home has many people who are unable to walk very much, and some who cannot walk at all. It is the purpose of the Senior Citizens to obtain a bus with a hydraulic lift at the door to lift wheel chairs into the bus. The bus will cost about $26,000 with the equipment necessary for use as above. Government grants have been promised for 50% of this amount, so the fund is collecting to the amount of $13,000. The Residents to date have planned little efforts on their own, and have now raised $3300.00.

Just imagine what a wonderful thing this bus will be for the Senior Citizens. Shortly, we hope, those who have not been able to go on a trip for years, will be able to see the country once more. I think that we owe these people a great deal, because many of them have made it possible for us to enjoy the benefits of Haliburton County as we know it today.

Donations, large or small, may be sent to the PARAPLEGIC BUS FUND, Hyland Crest Home, MINDEN

This is a COUNTY EFFORT, and will serve ALL of the people from all over the County. There are people from all over the County in the Home, and many tell the writer that they haven't been as comfortable in years.

Should use name of village

There is an old saying that you can go to the well once too often. We think the same can be said of using a name too often.

The name we have in mind is the word Highlands. When you look at the number of times this word is used for business, events or what have you we think that you will have to agree that we are wearing it out.

We cannot understand why this word has to be used so much. In our opinion if a business is opening in Haliburton, Minden, Wilberforce, Gooderham etc., why not use the name of the village instead of Highlands.

Just look around the next time you have a spare moment and just see how many times this title is used.

Tourist business is down from last year

From reports reaching our office it seems that up to this point the Resort and cottage business in the Highlands of Haliburton is down from other years. Business is slow and the resort owners are hoping that it will pick up in the next four weeks.

The drop in business cannot be blamed on the weather as it has been ideal for those on vacation.

One thing that seems to stand out when you try to sum up the situation and that is the fact that very few Americans are vacationing in Ontario this summer. The economy in the U.S.A. is anything but good and the recession that they are now in is having an effect on business in general in the Highlands.

Country Good Times weekend

This coming weekend all roads will be leading to the village of Wilberforce for the Country Good Times Weekend. It will be held this Friday, Saturday and Sunday July 25, 26, 27 and what a big line-up of entertainment will be on tap for all those who will be going for the big weekend.

If you will recall last year Wilberforce on their big weekend had a parade that would be hard to beat anywhere in Ontario. The parade chairman told the Echo this week that the parade scheduled for this Saturday at 1:00 p.m. will be even better. Along with many floats and marching units the Country Good Times Weekend parade will be saying it with music. Bands have been lined up and along with the others it will feature Clown Troop from Belleville and the ever popular Kawartha Cavaliers from Lindsay.

On Friday night its the Teen Dance featuring "Truth" and the Beauty Contest for Carnival Queen at Dance. The Midway will also be in operation on this evening.

On Saturday its the monster parade plus the Midway, Beer Garden [Live Entertainment] Flea Market, Booths and displays, amateur contest and the Grand Country Good Times Ball.

On Sunday it's the Pancake Breakfast from 9 a.m. until noon, midway from 12 noon to 4 p.m. Horse Drawing Contest and Legion parade plus many other events and attractions.

Haliburton Highlights

Haliburton County lost one of its citizens when Gordon B. Precor passed away on Sunday, July 13, 1975 at the Red Cross Hospital in Minden. The late Mr Precor was the beloved husband of Christina MacLeod of Gelert. He was in his 67th year. The deceased rested at the Funeral Chapel of John Welch and Son Ltd., Minden until Wednesday, July 16th where the service was held at 1:30 p.m. Interment was at the Gelert Cemetery.

Provincial Police at Minden and Cobocok detachments report numerous complaints of dangerous operation of boats and dangerous water skiing. Police are reminding us that such actions can result in possible drowning or at least injury to persons involved and advise that boaters and skiers use a little judgement and common sense and enjoy the waterways in safety.

The Road Show Theatre from the University of Guelph Drama Department will be presenting another of its weekly plays at the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School this coming Monday night at 8:30 p.m. the name of the play will be "The Fantastics."

The next time you make your favourite punch, add a big, colourful block of fruit drink ice. It's easy. Take a clean half-gallon milk carton, pour in two cups of lemonade and place in the freezer. When the lemonade has frozen solid, pour in two cups of chilled orange drink and freeze. Repeat with a third layer of cherry drink, then limeade or any combination of fruit drink or juices. When you are ready to serve, peel the carton away and float the beautiful ice block in your prettiest punch bowl. You add flavour and flair without diluting the punch.

Provincial Police at Minden are concerned with the number of traffic accidents that are occurring as a result of failure to negotiate the sharp curves on roadways in their detachment area.

The Rotary Club of Haliburton has their members busy these days selling tickets on the car they will be drawing for at their Annual Carnival on Wednesday, August 6th.

It's been a long hot summer so far and up to the time of writing this column its been a real dry one. Some people we have been talking with tell us that they can't remember such a long dry spell for years.

Traffic into the Highlands of Haliburton has been very heavy so far this summer and the worst is yet to come. Drive carefully.

If you are a softball fan there are plenty of games to see in the Haliburton County Softball League.

Only 2.7% of the senior population of Ontario is in residence.

There are 179 homes for senior citizens in Ontario. These are run by municipalities [67] and charitable organizations [92].

There are 24,500 seniors resident in these homes. 5.7% of these residents are married couples.

There is currently a trend towards more private home care for seniors because of recent regulations allowing for satellite homes [small residences under the auspices of another home].

There are other programs to help seniors remain in their own homes such as Day Care Centres, Meals-on-Wheels and Vacation Care.

Joys of summer

BILL SMILEY

WELL, that big heat wave through the end of June and into July puts the lie to all those pessimists who claim our summers are changing, getting cooler and damper. That was a real, old-fashioned scorcher.

Even our big, old, high-ceilinged house, surrounded by shade trees, warmed up to the almost-uncomfortable point after a week of high blue skies and hot yellow suns.

Farmers were worried, and a lot of people who had to work through the heat were suffering, and I had room for a lot of sympathy for both as I lay on the beach and wondered whether I should go in for another duck to cool off.

I have lots of sympathy, but no feeling of guilt, because I have paid my dues, slugging it out in the heat many a summer when other people were cooling off outside and inside.

There were several years of working as a serf on one of the big passenger boats that used to ply the Great Lakes.

We worked 12 hours a day, seven days a week. That was in the days when a long weekend was just a long weekend, with no holidays for the working stiff.

Most of the summer I enjoyed thoroughly, when we were "up the Lakes," sleeping under blankets at night, and revelling in the hot clear days and cool nights of The Lakehead, or Thunder Bay, as it's now known.

But down at the lower end of the seven-day run, at Windsor and Detroit, it was another story. That was then, and still is, the muggiest, funkiest, just plain hell-hottest place in North America.

Even the passengers perspired heavily. The crew didn't perspire, nor even sweat. They ran like waterfalls.

When you hit the Detroit River, you knew it. First, by the filth of the water. Secondly, by the lack of any semblance of breeze. Third, by the stink from the breweries of Windsor.

There was no air conditioning in those days. If you had a fan kicking around torrid, tired air, you were lucky. The passenger cabins were airless. The crew's quarters, most of them without windows or port-holes, were virtually unbreathable in. And the stokehole, where the black gang fired the coal into the furnaces, was an inferno. Why there wasn't mutiny down there, I'll never know.

But we were young and healthy and had no unions to tell us how we were being exploited (which we were). So after cleaning up the boat and standing under a tepid shower, it was on with some clean duds and out to sample the joys of a night in Detroit: big-league ball games, burlesque shows and something the Yanks called beer.

It was pretty heady stuff (not the beer) for a 17 or 18 year old. Some of the boys had a little trouble making it up the gang-plank. Then it was up to the top deck, because there was no use trying to sleep in our quarters, and sit there, naked, as the boat glided up the river, into Lake St. Clair, and the first signs of a breeze again. No sleep, and a 12-hour day ahead, but who needed it?

Then there was a summer working in a factory in Toronto. Most of the factory was air conditioned (it had become practicable by then) as the plant turned out film and cameras. But guess who got to work in the machine shop, down in the bowels, with the lathes and the welding machines and the temperature about 96? In hot weather, and I swear it was hot all summer, the guys down there were in a foul mood throughout their shift.

I honestly believe that, in the various summer jobs I've had, I have sweated enough to fill the tank of one of those new solar-heated homes they're talking about — something like 40,000 gallons.

And there's another type I feel sorry for. That's the weekly newspaper editor. Of course, they're so spoiled now that some of them even have, as I understand, air conditioning in their offices.

But in my day, the office took the full blast of the summer sun from about noon on. Outside on the street, long cool girls in shorts and tops, and little, cool, brown kids in even less, sauntered along, oblivious to the heat.

Inside, the editor stewed and sizzled, trying to shake off pieces of paper that stuck to his damp hands, trying to explain to advertisers why the paper was coming out late, wondering if there would be any advertising next week, and trying to wring an editorial out of a soggy brain.

Maybe I'll check things out with some of my old weekly colleagues at the convention this summer in Saskatoon. I'll expect a cool answer.

Yes, sympathy, but no guilt feeling. Now, if you'll excuse me, I have to take my grandbaby out to the beach, where we will sit in the cool sand with the waves washing over our legs, and look at the girls in bikinis, and dig holes in the wet sand, and splash each other, and jabber at each other in that special language that nobody else seems to understand, and give not a single thought to all the poor, steamy, smelly masses working today.

Never mind, chaps, I've got a rotten sunburn.

This Laughing Pilgrimage

"The story of Maude Anderson Finley, Tory Hill, Ontario.
It is just edited by Nila Reynolds."

My husband started rebuilding right away on a store twenty four feet by sixty with living quarters overhead which included three rooms twelve by twenty and bedrooms. Our family moved in about the middle of December.

I don't understand yet how we were able to replace everything since we were only able to collect part of the insurance; one company refused payment on the grounds that it had not been informed about a policy we held with a second company. I sometimes wonder in retrospect how we ever survived and kept the business going. The answer must have been hard work -- I know Ed loaded four foot lengths of wood on box cars for twenty five cents a cord. Once the men he was expecting to help him didn't show up so he piled the whole car himself. Ed never turned down any job because it involved hard work.

We also started to keep livestock as well as run the store. Soon we had seventeen milk cows whose cream was sold and their separated milk used to feed their calves and the pigs we kept. The cash from those cream cheques certainly came in handy.

How well I recall the evening when Ed had to be absent and our boys just couldn't find the cows at milking time. The herd straggled into the yard on their own about 10:30 p.m., just as I was closing up the store. When it was locked for the night I had to go out and milk those ten cows who, since it was hours beyond their regular milking, gave much more than usual. By the time the separating was done and the hungry animals fed I flopped into bed exhausted beyond endurance.

Another project of mine was the raising of my own chickens with the help of an ancient incubator heated with coal oil which demanded close watching. I had to get up a couple of times every night to check that the temperature was constant. If everything went well I hatched as many as seventy five chicks which I thankfully turned over to an ambitious and maternal setting hen as soon as I could.

My days were long ones -- as soon as breakfast ended the dishes had to be washed, five or six beds made up, chickens and calves fed, the milk separator and pails washed and scalded and eight or nine oil lamps refilled and cleaned. My glistening lempas with wicks cut evenly and providing a wide flame were a great source of personal pride with me. One of my neighbours had an entirely different approach and used to leave her lamps until they were needed. She would then take off the chimney, light the wick which then sputtered and smoked like a bad tempered volcano, while she gave the glass a half hearted lick and promise.

We ran the store, kept the Post Office and operated a mill so had little time left over for either pleasure or idleness. Often when we didn't employ enough men to justify a camp cook I boarded them at the house. There was seldom a time when there was not someone extra to cook for including relatives. Two of Ed's nephews from Cleveland spent several summers with us and one year our family included eight boys; half of them our own. They still talk of the good times they had.

In spite of all this commotion and bulging dinner table I always kept a linen table cloth on my dining room table since it was my conviction that, if children were not taught good table manners, they would never feel at ease when they ate out.

We employed one old gentleman at the mill who always poured the tea into his saucer and, after blowing lustily on it, set his dripping cup on the table cloth which was soon decorated with ugly rings. Another big fellow from the mill used to eat his food from his knife. One of the boys from Cleveland watched this performance in horrified amazement until he was moved to exclaim, "Tom, Aren't you afraid you might cut out your tonsils with that knife?"

Tom laughed heartily with the rest of us but placidly went on wielding his knife as before. He had worked in the lumber camps before this but camp or private dining room made no difference to his manners. Even a restaurant made no impression until a smart waitress took his measure and dealt with him accordingly. When she asked him to have more tea, Tom answered "Just a mouthful."

She then filled his cup and saucer to overflowing as she remarked "I'll be back with the rest shortly."

Our own Hid was always fond of a joke and no trouble was too great to achieve it. One evening he dressed up in woman's clothing and introduced himself to Tom as his aunt who had just arrived in Tory Hill and wanted to be taken immediately to Tom's uncle. Good hearted Tom was glad to oblige and helped Hid gather up his several bags, bundles and umbrellas as they left.

This Laughing Pilgrimage

There were a lot of people watching the little drama who were in on Hid's masquerade. They could hardly contain themselves, but it was Hid whose laughter gave the whole show away before they had gone very far. I would imagine Tom must have felt like murdering him but like the good sport he was he took it well and laughed it off in good style.

We often had hired girls to help with the housework. One of these who had a steady boy friend inspired another of Hid's performances. He secretly borrowed from her wardrobe a suit, hat and high heeled shoes and decked out in them entered the store where the girl's beau waited for her to finish work. Hid sidled over to him and coyly taking him by the arm invited "Let's go for a walk."

The boy turned red in the face but got up and went out with Hid. I had seen him walk through the house but his get up fooled me into thinking it was my hired girl. Hid's impersonations were certainly authentic.

Hired girls added an extra dimension to our lives with their comings and goings. Another one tarried too long and too late. Trying to get to her room without waking the family proved her undoing. In the darkness she tripped over a broom handle the children had dropped in play. It went flying across the hall with a noise you could have heard a half mile away.

We kept a fine flock of Buff Orpington hens so a man traded us a setting of duck eggs for a like number of eggs from our hens. We set them under a maternally inclined bird who hatched us a nice little flock of ducklings. Little Don was so thrilled with them he just couldn't leave them alone. When they swam in the creek the poor old hen clucked and sputtered in despair until they waddled ashore. One time Don gathered up two or three of them and put them in a glass jar so he could show his friend the blacksmith how they could swim. Unfortunately he forgot that ducklings need air as well as water. When he got back they had suffocated. He handled the rest of them so much that they died too and that finished the duck raising experiment.

On another occasion when Jean and Don were bigger they undertook to kill a hen with the help of a neighbour's girl who sat in the buggy while Don held the hen's neck in front of the wheel as Jean pulled the buggy over it. It was a good many years before they told us about that particular episode.

My brother, Ross Anderson, lived across the street from us. His son and our second girl, Ria, were about the same age and inseparable companions. What those two couldn't cook up together wasn't worth doing anyhow. One day a farmer left his team tied to the hitching post in front of our store. Young Jack Anderson climbed into the untended democrat, took its whip and was laying it about the horses back with all his might when noticed. Luckily for him the team couldn't break loose or it might have been all up with adventurous Jack.

Our little girls wasn't as fortunate. She fell off the couch and broke her collar bone. Although she had to go around with her arm tied close to her body it did not put a check on her activities; she and Jack continued with their fist fights and she learned to use her one hand very skillfully. These childish squabbles were mercifully brief and both were over it in minutes and happy as ever.

Ria also fell into the creek one day with no ill effects since it was not very deep. hile I changed her clothes she gravely explained how it happened. "There was a toad and I was chasing the blamed 'sing' and I fell in."

Little toads and frogs were common companions of Ria who handled them casually without the squeamishness of most little girls.

Report from Parliament

By William C Scott, MP

For several weeks during this past Spring I have been deeply involved in travelling across the country with the House Immigration Committee, sampling public opinion as to what sort of immigration policy we should have in Canada.

We also received countless delegations, and individuals, all of whom presented briefs regarding their views on immigration policy. These briefs ranged all the way from an open-door policy with no restrictions, to a policy of severely limited immigration, with restrictions on certain racial groups.

Unfortunately, in our meetings around the country we were often subjected to abuse and harassment by radical groups and individuals, of almost every political stripe, from the far left to the far right.

These people, for the most part, refused to allow people of different views from presenting their arguments before the committee, and so I am convinced that we were prevented from getting the type of information and opinions that we were hoping that we would get.

Since I have been back in Ottawa, receiving briefs in the more settled atmosphere of committee meetings in the House, I have come to feel that instead of basing immigration policy on public opinion, much of which is uninformed, and in the case of radical groups is purely personal, we in Parliament should be providing leadership and direction in deciding who should be allowed to come to Canada.

In the first place, those people who are already citizens of Canada should be protected, and those people should have first call on the great wealth and opportunities available to them. While we have a Christian duty to provide aid and comfort to the needy peoples of other countries, we have to keep in mind that foreign aid should not take priority over the needs of your own people.

Too many people today think of Canada as a nation of three and a half million square miles of living space, while this is far from the truth. Our living space, and the area in which we grow our food, is a narrow band stretching from coast to coast, and about two hundred miles from North to South.

Much of this land disappears every year, in highways and roads, airports, housing developments, and also as the result of natural disasters such as floods. The problems of urban sprawl and blight in Canada today are so acute that we are spending millions of dollars annually in attempts to bring them under control.

At the present time we are sorely pressed to provide jobs, food and shelter for a large per centage of our population. Housing programs are woefully inadequate and unemployment is reaching the 800,000 mark. Our first and immediate responsibility is to those people and their problems.

Professor C.F. Bentley, of the University of Alberta, says that we will experience problems in the future in feeding our present population plus normal increases due to births. He says that most of all the good agricultural land in Canada is already in use, and that a number of steps will have to be taken just to keep up with our own needs.

These are; putting more land into agricultural use, use of better and more fertilizers, introduction of new crops and animals, better irrigation, and, better management of agricultural production.

Professor Bentley foresees a doubling of Canada's population, even with limited immigration, by the year 2,000, which is not that far off. Instead of following a policy of unlimited immigration, Mr Bentley suggests that we should be doing what we can to make it attractive for people to stay in their own countries.

Royal Commission on Violence in the Communications Industry to begin hearings in the Fall

Ontario's Royal Commission on Violence in the Communications Industry has announced in newspaper advertisements throughout Ontario that it will begin hearings in the Fall.

"1. To study the effects on society of the increasing exhibition of violence in the communications industry;

2. To determine if there is any connection or a cause and effect relationship between this phenomenon and the incident of violent crime in society;

Trillium award means good money value

The Trillium Awards for Home Furniture "tells consumers they are getting good value for their money," said a U.S. retailer/designer after evaluating submissions for this year's award competition.

Jim Peed of Jim Peed Associates, North Carolina, is one of seven jurors who have narrowed the submissions to 31 nominees. Winners will be announced Aug. 12.

"The Trillium Award gives total value endorsement," said Mr. Peed. "It gives the purchaser confidence in the overall quality of the product and the retailer knows he had a product for sale that is endorsed by professionals aligned with the furniture industry."

The Trillium Award program, held for the first time last year, is sponsored by the Ministry of Industry and Tourism in co-operation with the Ontario Furniture Manufacturers Association. The awards are offered to manufacturers of home furniture and lighting equipment.

The award recognizes the achievements of those manufacturers who, according to the jurors, offer the consumer a combination of design and mass appeal, dollar value, serviceability, ingenuity and development of the product.

Jurors agreed this year's entries represented an increase in the quality of products competing in such categories as traditional and contemporary styling as well as in separate categories for lighting and specialty residential goods.

Other jurors are Eleanor Brown, Simpsons, Toronto;

Harvey Patterson, Patterson Furniture & Interiors, Hamilton; Joe Culp, Hudson's Bay Company, Toronto; Bill Laudrum, Eatons of Canada, Toronto; Roger Rougier, Rougier Furniture Ltee., Montreal, and Morley Globberman, Gill Ltd., Winnipeg.

Presentations will be made to the winning manufacturers in August, prior to the showing of the furniture products in the Getter Living Centre during the Canadian National Exhibition.

To the Members of Council, Inhabitants and Ratepayers of the Corporation of the Townships of Dysart et al

We have examined the 1974 financial statements of the Corporation of the Townships of Dysart et al which are listed on the attached index. Our necessary in the circumstances.

In our opinion these financial statements present fairly the financial position of the Corporation of the Townships of Dysart et al as at December 31, 1974, and the results of its operations for the year then ended, in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted for Ontario municipalities applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

Hall's Lake news

Dr. Bruce Morrow of Hamilton has faithfully been taking samples of Hall's Lake water and having it tested, for many years. He is now looking for a Volunteer to take over this duty as of May 24th to Thanksgiving of this year. There is a certain procedure to follow and instructions and booklet to read may be obtained at Stinson's Store, Hall's Lake. We are all grateful to Dr. Bruce Morrow for his concern and the time he has spent to keep a close watch over the purity of this Lake.

A wedding took place recently at Birchcliff United Church in Scarborough when Miss Donna Moore became the bride of Mr Michael Wilshire. Donna practically grew up here at Hall's Lake and it is interesting to note that two of her attendants are cottage neighbours, Debbie and Karen Golchuk. It was a lovely wedding we are told and a happy event. Mrs Irene Moore has had a cottage here for many years and she is the Mother of Donna, a beautiful dark young lady whom we have watched grow up.

Another successful Firemen's Ball took place Saturday evening at Medley's in Carnarvon. Stanhope Volunteer fire brigade have done it again! — a record attendance, good music, prizes and two very worthy presentations. Mrs Gladys Thorne and Mrs Elma Welch, two of the Senior Citizens who reside at Hyland Crest in Minden accepted a cheque for $250. toward their paraplegic bus. They were accompanied by Mrs Elsie Bursey, the Administrator of the Home, and Mrs Lily Rawlins, Activities Director. A cheque in the amount of $100.00 was also presented to Michael Legge of the Minden Police toward the Rescusi-Anne. The Auxiliary of the Home recently voted that $250.00 of their funds be turned over to the fund for the bus also and it is wonderful to hear how hard the Residents themselves are working toward this new project.

We would like to commend the Stanhope Firemen for their thoughtfulness in planning these dances. Small carnation corsages are presented to each lady on admission, and the wives and friends of the firemen certainly put on a great buffet at midnight. Looking back over some of their accomplishments in the comparatively short time they have been in operation, we would say they have done a lot of thoughtful things for the community as a whole — a skating rink in the Winter, at least two Open House occasions where they invited and encouraged Seniors to inspect the new Firehall, in fact the building of the firehall and the purchase of the equipment and fire truck was a great accomplishment. Also, and most important, is the fact that they get together each and every Monday evening to drill and keep in shape to fight local fires! Thank you fellows!

Mr and Mrs Benjamin Ward and daughters Anne and Patricia are guests again this year at Alkamali Cottages, owned by the Rawlins. They drive from Pierre Fonds in Quebec and have been coming to Haliburton for their holidays for many years. We always like to welcome them back. Their son, Ben Jr. is working in Labrador this year.

Mr and Mrs Fred Olson from Port Perry have purchased the late Dr. Vern Herron's cottages on the Lake, and we would like to welcome them and their family to the area.

Mrs Marge McGee is in residence at her cottage once again and shares it with her friends. Her grandchildren, Jodi and Danny Burlington, stop by to visit her frequently as their cottage is nearby.

Mr and Mrs Cairns, Mr and Mrs Scinnoca, Mr and Mrs Torrance and their families are all back to their nice cottages on Peach Lake.

Some cottagers still insist on washing their hair in the Lake leaving great areas of detergent suds near water lines, where some people still draw their water from. One would think with all the publicity concerning pollution that this would be discontinued.

Dr. and Mrs Paul Greenhow of London are enjoying a month at their cottage, doing a lot of painting and brushing out and generally making it more attractive. They have four nice young sons.

Nice to see a good congregation at the 8:30 service at St. Stephen's on Sunday. Rev. Stanley Hills plays the organ, sings with enthusiasm and conducts the service in a very efficient manner. A short sermon is appreciated also since some of us cannot get out to the afternoon Service during the Summer months.

Cooler weather and the odd shower make for a rest from the intense heat. Great cottage weather and the lake is warm.

Sorry to hear about an accident on Highway 35 just south of here on Sunday. Details will probably be in this issue of the papers.

Mr and Mrs George Holliday of Mount Forest spent the weekend here at the Lake. Next week they leave on a motor camping trip to the West Coast.

Some of our cottage friends are availing themselves of the tickets to attend the Plays being featured each week at the Haliburton High School. The Euchre Parties at Club 35 and the Bingo Games are also popular. Even our little Lending Library is filling in some of the spare time that people on holidays enjoy. Stanhope has a good lending library, next to the Township Office at Maple Lake and Minden Library is also open and a good turn-over of books.

Mr and Mrs John Houser of Burlington visited for a few days with Mr and Mrs Donald Hall.

Mrs Hazel Hicks of Toronto was a guest of Mrs Marjorie Watson over the weekend.

An interesting snapshot of five generations was viewed this past week. Mrs Frank Barjarow's daughter Cathy, who is now Mrs Larry Castle, her new babe Keri, the grandmother, Aileen Barjarow, the great grandmother, Mrs Beryl Fader, and the great-great grandfather Mrs Charles Fader of Maple Lake. Keri was born on 16th of June and was sitting on her proud and happy great-great grandfather's knee in the picture.

The Bake Sale held at Club 35 last Wednesday afternoon was a successful affair, with a few members and friends doing the work. They are grateful for the donations.

A week this coming Wednesday, July 30th, St. Stephen's Ladies' Guild will be holding their annual and popular Tea and Sale of Work at Club 35. Watch for posters telling of time. The ladies take pride in turning out good quilts and handmade articles, as well as appetizing baked goods.

Rain at last! Those who came up for the week-end found it rather disappointing weather, but those who live here and know how very dry everything is were glad and thankful to have the rain. Today, Monday, is a lovely day.

A surprise birthday celebration was held Saturday evening at Deerhurst Lodge near Huntsville for the Stinsons. It is a lovely spot, two miles in from Highway 35.

Friends told us of the delightful dinner they enjoyed at Loreale Lodge last week. Steaks were barbecued on the patio and served in the attractive dining room and a buffet table was set up. Both the food and the service were worthy of comment and our friends highly recommend it to everyone wanting to take their company somewhere "special".

It was good to have Mr Melvin White of Lindsay back for his cup of tea. He and his wife are keeping quite well and he does enjoy driving up the highway and checking up on things each Summer.

Mrs William Gartshore, Mrs Marjorie Johnson, Mrs Norma Davies and Mrs Florence Poirier are leaving soon for the British Isles. We hope they have a pleasant and safe trip. We also hope they will take greetings from Hall's Lake to their delightful relatives who visited Canada last year.

The Rev. Lloyd Clifton Jr. and his wife have been enjoying a short holiday at the Clifton cottage. Lloyd has a new charge in the Presbyterian Church at Uptergrove, commencing his duties immediately.

Mrs William Lindsay spent a few days in Toronto recently, prior to her son's wedding.

It is nice to see Mr Jamieson getting around again after the unfortunate accident some months ago.

We see many new people around the Lake. The Camping Grounds are filled and cottages being well used. Every cottage owner seems to share their cottage with friends and relatives some time during the Summer months.

Mini budget doomed to failure

MINDEN - The provincial government's mini budget released last Monday is a disaster, doomed to failure, says Victoria-Haliburton Social Credit candidate Harry Hughes of Minden.

Mr. Hughes said there is no way the budget can accomplish any of its stated goals. It will not increase the supply of housing, stimulate car sales or reduce the size of the civil service. "The only people to gain are the ones who will be collecting interest on the $100 million the government is borrowing to pay for the mini budget," Mr. Hughes commented.

He noted that the $30 million slated for housing development will go to developers in return for a promise to complete units already planned, ahead of schedule. It will not help start new houses, he claimed.

The Social credit candidate said temporary rebates on the five per cent sales tax for some new cars will not increase car sales. People who may have put off buying a new car until next spring may be encouraged to buy while the rebate is in effect. This may give the appearance of an increase, he said, but after the election when the rebate program ends, sales will drop below normal because everyone will already have bought.

"Ontario can not afford to pay interest on the debt for all these ill conceived schemes," the candidate declared.

No matter what shape you're in,
you can be in shape.

THE ACTS OF THE HOLY SPIRIT

There are some people who prefer to call the "Book of Acts," that marvelous Book in the Scriptures, the "Acts of the Holy Spirit", and rightly so. The account is in no sense a history of the work of the Apostles, but simply a detailed view of what the Holy Spirit did as He made His abode among men for the "Church Age."

The names of the eleven remaining Apostles appear but once, Acts 1:13, and although they are mentioned collectively some twenty times, the first twelve chapters bring Peter into prominence. From there on to the end of the Book the man Saul, whose Roman name was Paul, is the servant of the Risen Lord and the Holy Spirit. Peter comes on the scene again at the first Church Conference held in Jerusalem, but here it was James who was the main leader and not Peter, Acts. 15.

It was at Jerusalem that the Church had its beginning and not Rome. Also the fellowship of that beginning consisted of all Jewish people and those Gentiles who had embraced the Jewish faith. The Divine "program" of that day divides the period of times of the Early Church into the main divisions; (1) Jerusalem or Jew, chapter 2-7, (2) Judea and Samaria, chapter 8-12, (3) "Unto the uttermost part of the earth," chapter 13-28. The Book begins at Jerusalem and ends its account at Rome, which simply means that the "Gospel" had now been spread into Gentile territory and the Holy Spirit left it up to Gentiles to keep the "great commission" alive.

It is impossible to follow the account given in the twenty-eight chapters of the Book without being amazed at the rapid growth in numbers, and the deep insight into Spiritual things that the Early Church had. From the "one hundred and twenty" all of whom were Jews, with circumcision as well as baptism being required of every disciple, the way was soon cleared for the Samaritans (inbred Jew and Gentile) and the Gentiles to be relieved of the burden which the Jew had found so hard to bear. Chapter fifteen is taken up with that memorable derision of the early Jewish Christians to give liberty to the Holy Spirit in policy change, as more and more Gentiles accepted the call of the Gospel and were added to the Church by that same Holy Spirit.

By the time the end of the record is reached in the "Book", every barrier between Jew and Gentile had been broken down and each enjoys the same privileges through the "Grace" that recognizes no racial distinction. That all this should come to pass within some thirty years is remarkable indeed. The credit of it must go to none other than the Lord of the Church who found receptive hearts to His will and way.

The rapid spread of the Gospel and its acceptance is the more remarkable when one remembers and considers that those first preachers of the Gospel were very conservative and rather bigoted and naturally reluctant to give the "Gentiles" any share in the monopoly to which the Jew had been entitled, Acts 10:28, Gal. 1:15, 16. Furthermore the repentance and faith demanded by the message presented, was not, and never would be, very popular. The cost was high, for discipleship involved both social and religious ostracism, to say nothing of the bitter persecution and often violent death to which the "follower of this way", was exposed.

Just what was the drawing card? Just why did the early Church respond so well to the cause of spreading the "Word of Life" by life and lip? The "Acts of the Holy Spirit" gives the story, and no serious minded reader can read the account without seeing the Hand of God in the Person of the Holy Spirit reaching out to the sin-sick soul and telling that one of the "Grace" that has come our way. The same "Hand" is still outstretched and that same "Holy Spirit" is still adding to the Church such as are being saved. Acts 2:47.

Junior Rangers

This summer the Ministry of Natural Resources will invest 3 million dollars in the Junior Ranger Program. Two and one-half million of this will cover staff salaries and the summer wages of 1600 Ontario students, 400 of whom are girls. Taken together with the Ministry's "Experience '75" student summer program, Natural Resources are employing roughly 4,000 Ontario youths.

Like the "Experience '75" Program, the Junior Ranger Program has a two-fold purpose. Firstly, it provides Ontario's seventeen year-olds interested in resource careers with an opportunity to learn the management of natural resources through a working and learning experience. Secondly, it productively employs a large number of students on necessary projects which might otherwise not be done under regular ministry programs.

The Junior Ranger Program was conceived in 1944 by the "Flying Deputy Minister", the late Frank McDougall. That year, only 21 Junior Rangers were employed, while future plans now aim for the employment of 2,000 candidates, or 1.3% of the Province's 17 year-old students! The attainment of this objective is made extremely difficult both by inflationary pressures and the scarcity of capital funds for either the expansion of existing Junior Ranger Camps, or the development of new ones.

Junior Rangers are paid a transportation subsidy amounting to their costs in excess of $25.00 return fare. Generally an attempt is made to position students from the north in southern camps, while southern students largely go northward. Their remuneration is $60.00 weekly for nine weeks from July 2nd to August 27th.

In Algonquin Region, the Ministry of Natural Resources employs 168 Junior

An investment in the future

Rangers in seven camps located in the Districts of Algonquin Park, Bancroft, Bracebridge and Parry Sound. The camps are located at Cashel Lake in Bancroft District, Achray and Kiosk in Algonquin Park, North Lake and South River in Bracebridge District and at Grundy Park and Killbear Park in Parry Sound District. Forty-eight girls are employed in Algonquin Region in "all-girl" camps at Cashel Lake and South River.

The Junior Ranger work program in Algonquin Region is wide and varied. Some of the more important tasks include cutting portages, developing public access points on lakes, improving park campsites, cutting firewood for parks, general park maintenance, building maintenance and road maintenance. Junior Rangers are also employed in improvement treatment of crown forests. This involves the removal of undesirable

"weed" and malformed trees, pruning superior trees, seed collecting and replanting of new forests.

On the curriculum side, Junior Rangers are given lectures on a wide variety of subjects. Included are Accident Prevention, Forest Fire Control, Forest Management, Insect Controls, Fish and Wildlife Management, Park Management, Geology and the management of lands and waters.

While no figures have been kept in the past to determine what percentage of Junior Rangers have moved on into resource vocations, it is generally thought to be quite significant. The remainder who choose other careers, however, will have gained valuable insights into the resource management field.

In Memoriam

PAULL - In loving memory of my son who passed away July 24, 1974

I had a son I was proud to own, What it meant to lose him will never be known.

The heartaches of this world are many, But the loss of my son was the greatest of any.

A broken link we can never replace Too young to die, to precious to lose It was God's will, we cannot choose.

To dearly loved to ever be forgotten. Sadly missed by Mother, Stepfather, Sister and Brother.

STRONG - In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Ellwood Strong, who passed away on July 27, 1971.

Our lips cannot tell how we miss him, Our hearts cannot tell what to say, God alone knows how we miss him In a home that is lonesome today. Sadly missed by wife Nellie and Family.

In Memoriam

DART - In loving memory of our dear mother, Margaret Jane, who passed away on July 11, 1967. "Thy will be done" seems hard to say. When one we loved has passed away; Some day, perhaps, we'll understand, When we meet in that better land. Sadly missed by Don, Frances and Fred.

In Memoriam

DART - In loving memory of our dear mother, Margaret Jane, who passed away on July 11, 1967. Gone from us, but leaving memories. Death can never take away. Memories that will always linger. While upon this earth we stay. Sadly missed by Jack, Jean, Larry, Ricky, Jamie and Wendy.

In Memoriam

DART - In loving memory of our dear mother, Margaret Jane, who passed away on July 11, 1967. More and more each day we miss her. Friends may think the wound is healed, But they little know the sorrow. Lies within our hearts concealed. Sadly missed by Bert, Grayce, Howard, Kathy and Kevin.

DID YOU KNOW: "Nursery stock application forms are available for spring 1976 tree planting".

In Memoriam

DART - In loving memory of our dear mother, Margaret Jane, who passed away on July 11, 1967. Heavy are our hearts today. Memory brings you back once more. To the time when you were with us, To the happy days of yore. Sadly missed by Pauline, Bob, Jack, Lynda, Doug, Nellie, Roger and Debbie.

Thank-You

I would like to express my sincere thanks to Doctor Venton and Doctor Madill of Minden and also the Nurses for their kindness during my stay in hospital. Leonard Milburn, Gooderham.
